Core Function:		School Leadership and Decision Making
Effective Practice:		Establish a team structure with specific duties and time for instructional planning
	ID01	A team structure is officially incorporated into the school governance policy.(36)	Implementation Status	Assigned To	Target Date
Initial Assessment:		As a district, the administrators from the individual buildings and curriculum areas, serve as a leadership team for the district. The administrative team meets monthly with our school district superintendent to discuss academics, programming, goals, district policies, and professional matters within the district. Following the district meetings, administrators follow the same pattern by sharing necessary information with the building leadership team in twice monthly meetings. The Leadership Team also meets to reflect, review, and determine specific areas of need and goals based on input given from teachers and staff in the school. After the leadership meetings, grade level chairs take the information and share with the members of their team to discuss, plan, and implement the actions given. The team structure has been highly beneficial and productive at Mountain Springs Elementary due to the ongoing communication and high level of commitment to meeting all needs of all students. Effective Practice:		Align classroom observations with evaluation criteria and professional development

		IF02	The Leadership Team reviews the principal's summary reports of classroom observations and takes them into account in planning professional development.(66)	Implementation Status	Assigned To	Target Date
			Initial Assessment: At Mountain Springs Elementary, there is a high accountability standard for teachers, as well as all other professional staff. The principal, Mandy Watkins, conducts formal and informal observations on all staff members, which are facilitated through the Bloomboard program, and staff are assessed using the Arkansas Department of Education evaluation system, TESS. To obtain accurate observations, the principal goes into classrooms weekly to ensure that quality instruction is taking place in every classroom throughout the school. After completion of formal observations, conferences are held with the classroom teacher and principal to discuss what was observed, give constructive criticism, as well as praise on what areas the teachers are succeeding in. When planning for professional development opportunities for staff members, some components are based on district level needs. However, building level professional development is structured on skills and practices that are identified as a high need area of improvement or a new skill that would be beneficial for our building. When focusing on individual leadership opportunities, new teachers in our building are assigned a mentor teacher to guide them, support them, and assist them with building their professional and academic skills to become a highly qualified teacher. This relationship will allow them to have the additional support, but also be able to form their own identity in the school community, and develop their abilities to make responsible decisions and conclusions in their educational career. As a leadership team, we take all considerations into account for the general functioning of our school. The team focuses on planning, designing, implementing, as well as evaluating our educational practices to determine the successfulness of each. As a team, we met to discuss current educational practices being used in our building, as well as ideas for how we can improve specific academic areas in the future. Each grade level member was able to bring their observations, feedback, and data to share with the team, and we were able to develop a more detailed plan of implementation to better meet the needs of our students. We will also use this information to plan for professional development opportunities for the upcoming year.	Limited Development 03/28/2016

		IF06	Teachers are required to make individual professional development plans based on classroom observations.(70)	Implementation Status	Assigned To	Target Date
Initial Assessment:			Teachers at Mountain Springs Elementary develop their individual professional development plans based on their subject level, their instruction areas, and their classroom observations completed by the school administration. Each year, our teachers identify an area or areas that will be the focus on their professional development plan. Once developed, it is approved by our school principal, Mandy Watkins. When approving, she makes sure that each plan is aligned with the district and school goals that will ensure that our students are receiving the highest level of educational opportunities possible. Beyond their individual plans, teachers and staff also work collaboratively with each other to provide accountability, as well as to gain knowledge of practices from each other. Although developed individually, the implementation is done as a team, with other staff and administration, to ensure that goals are being met.	Full Implementation 03/28/2016
!		IF11	The school provides all staff high quality, ongoing, job-embedded, and differentiated professional development.(3984)	Implementation Status	Assigned To	Target Date
Initial Assessment:			Throughout the school year, our staff participates in embedded, ongoing professional development opportunities. This year, our focus is based on "Teach Like a Pirate." After completing a section of their material, their interpretations are discussed and applied to teaching strategies in the classroom. A school Leadership Team has been established consisting of the principal, counselor, and a representative from each grade level. The team meets monthly to discuss academic progress being made in the classrooms, and what can be done to improve the current level of academic instruction. Each grade level provides information to the team that can be utilized across the building to create positive results for our students. Within the team, a strong support system has been formed that works to meet the academic and social needs of our students. Teachers participate in professional development opportunities at the beginning of the contract year, throughout the school year, as well as during the summer. The teachers receive training in math and literacy training, as well as discipline and classroom management, such as Conscious Discipline.	Limited Development 10/28/2015

How it will look when fully met:		As we implement this goal, we will have professional learning that increases our educator effectiveness and the results and achievement for all students. This will occur during our embedded meetings conducted each month with teams of teachers throughout the day. Our current focus is student engagement. We are participating in a Book Study using Teach Like a Pirate. We also meet monthly as a professional learning community to conduct Kid Talks. This professional learning development gives each staff member an opportunity to bring a student strength or weakness to the team to discuss and determine what strategies or interventions are needed to help this individual student find success. Teachers also participate in specific learning communities that provide support and training in the areas of literacy, math, science as well as classroom management. Our Learning Communities will be committed to continuous improvement , collective responsibility as team members and goal alignment based on standards and expectations. Our Professional learning that increases educator effectiveness and results for all students applies research on change and sustains support for implementation. Evidence of this goal will be an increase in student achievement and engagement in all academic and social areas of development.		Mandy Watkins	05/27/2016

Effective Practice:		Expanded time for student learning and teacher collaboration
	IH01	The school monitors progress of the extended learning time programs and other strategies related to school improvement.(3981)	Implementation Status	Assigned To	Target Date
Initial Assessment:		At this time, we have limited development of offering extended learning opportunities for our students. At Mountain Springs, we are a non Title I elementary school, which limits us due to not receiving federal funding to support the extended learning opportunities and strategies. In previous school years, we have offered an after school tutoring program for a limited time in the Spring in preparation for state assessments. However, this year we have not yet received our test data from the 2014-2015 school year, and we are preparing for a new assessment for the 2015-2016 school year, which causes difficulty in planning for extended learning opportunities. Effective Practice:		Ensure High Quality Staff - Recruitment, Evaluation, and Retention
	II01	The school works collaboratively with the district to recruit and retain highly-qualified teachers to support school improvement.(3982)	Implementation Status	Assigned To	Target Date
Initial Assessment:		At Mountain Springs Elementary, we work collaboratively with the district to ensure that we are recruiting and hiring highly-qualified teachers by participating in the interview process with applicants following a screening process that is conducted by staff members who specialize in specific curriculum areas. When interviewing a candidate, the administration looks for candidates that best meet qualifications of showing professionalism, strong instructional strategies, the ability to work as a team, behavioral management. It is also important that candidates are willing to participate in professional development that enable them to continue to grow as an educator, as well as support parental involvement. The main goal of the interview conducted by our building principal is to find a candidate that is willing to meet the needs of the "whole child." After the hiring process is complete, the principal works closely with the new staff member to ensure that they are maintaining the high level of expectations.	Full Implementation 03/28/2016

Initial Assessment:		At Mountain Springs Elementary, we are a Preschool-Fourth Grade building, so we are not necessarily preparing them for college and careers. However, we do focus on skills that prepare them to be a successful student throughout their academic careers. In guidance counseling, as well as in other areas of their instruction, students receive whole group counseling on learning responsibility, making good decisions, working with others, as well as career opportunities. The teachers reinforce the importance of being hard workers and being goal oriented. We have a time that we focus on the benefits of attending college where students are able to discuss different college opportunities, what is offered in college, and teachers show their support by wearing their college t-shirt and discussing their college experiences. We also offer career day for the students where they are given the opportunity to hear from many different professionals in the work force about possible career options and what is involved in becoming a member of that profession. Students are also encouraged to dress as their future career choice and discuss setting goals for themselves and how to obtain them. At Mountain Springs, we strive to prepare our students for their future by providing positive experiences and instilling self confidence and goal setting opportunities for all students.
